Attack On Rent Ceilings Likely To Develop Now

New Housing Program Will Probably Bring All Out Attack On Rents

MANY OF HOUSING RESTRICTIONS LIFTED

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A new, all-out attack on rent ceilings appeared likely today as the government put into operation a housing program accentuating decontrol and private enterprise.

The new program takes the lid off prices on new dwellings, relaxes ceilings on new rental units and allows non-veterans to build for their own use.

Opening Wedge

In some business circles, these provisions were held as the opening wedge for removal or extensive relaxation of rent controls on existing dwellings.

This sentiment was based on the theory that housing costs in general are bound to rise, and that present hold-the-line rent controls will not be able to stand the pressure.

The administration's new approach to housing marks the end of former expedient Wilson Wyatt's plans of strong government control and brought the resignation last night of one of Wyatt's top associates who charged the program is only a "fold up operation."

Long's Attitude

Norton E. Long, assistant housing administrator for program, said he and other assistants of Wyatt had remained with the housing agency at Wyatt's request "to see what could be salvaged" but he decided to quit after studying the new program.

Long said that 10 of the 12 points advanced by the program whittled down the Wyatt plans and that the other two failed to add anything.

He declared that the new housing policy means that the industrial housing program "has gone by the boards," and added that "there is nothing left but a phoney."

Drafted At White House

The program was drafted at a series of White House conferences between President Truman and his top advisers, including the new expedient, Frank R. Creedon, whose ideas are believed reflected by the policy.

It puts in working terms the policy announced less than two weeks ago when Wyatt resigned. At the time the President declared the housing program must be fitted (Continued on Page Two)

Christmas tree supply for the area will be abundant this season. It is indicated by the rapidly increasing number of places where trees are being placed on sale.

Several of the ponds around the city were nearly frozen over on Sunday. A few more days of below freezing weather and skating will be ushered in for the season.

Some of the hotels around the city have decorated and lighted trees in the lobby, adding holiday cheer for the travellers who visit this section.

Mrs. Louise McConnell, 938 Beckford street, called Pa New this morning, to inform him that she is not the Mrs. Louise McConnell seeking a home for a dog as mentioned in Saturday's Pa New column. The Beckford street Mrs. McConnell has been besieged with calls from would be dog owners.

Leaders In Building Industry Here Foresee Housing Move Benefit

Local businessmen affiliated with the building program in New Castle and vicinity today heralded the abolition of price controls on materials, and other modifications of the housing restrictions.

It was the opinion of the men interviewed that the decision to lift price controls on much-needed materials will make itself felt in a general upswing in the home construction program by spring or at least by mid-summer.

It was pointed out that this new act brings the problem out into the open, will squelch black-market activities and give the buildings better materials with which to start the program rolling.

Tells Probers He Gave $3,750 To Sen. Bilbo

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—B. L. Knost, Mississippi contractor, testified today that he gave Senator G. Bilbo's secretary $3,750 as a campaign contribution in 1942 and only recently learned that the money was never turned in for that purpose.

Knost told the Senate War Investigating committee that he gave the $3,750 to Edward P. Terry, now under subpoena as a witness in the Bilbo inquiry, just before P. T. Newton, another contractor, turned over $25,000 to Bilbo for campaign use.

Intended For Campaign

In addition, Knost testified that in November, 1941, he loaned Bilbo $12,000 "because he needed it," and in June, 1942, gave the senator $5,000 for campaign use.

The $5,000 and the $3,750, the witness said, were intended to be used in the campaign for Wall Doney, present Senate sergeant-at-arms, then seeking re-election to the Senate.

Knost said that Bilbo had repaid $750 of the $12,000 loan and that he has never "pressed" the senator for the return of the balance.

The amount cited in today's testimony brought to $33,750 the total which Mississippi war contractors allegedly gave Bilbo or Terry for use in the Doney campaign.

Knost said he had given Bilbo "small amounts" as campaign donations for many years.

The victim, tentatively identified as S. Maiter of Los Angeles, had been shot in the head and chest and his body dumped in a ravine near Burlingame.

Sheriff James J. McGrath theorized the victim may have attended the races at Bay Meadows track last Saturday, won heavily and was slain for his winnings.

A racing form found in his pockets showed the victim had circled entries at the race meet. His wallet was missing, but an expensive watch was still in his pocket.

Sheriff McGrath said: "There isn't much doubt that this man was 'taken for a ride'."

Government May Sell Pipelines To Gas Companies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—A congressional committee swung its support today behind a proposal to sell the government's big inch and little inch petroleum pipelines to natural gas interests.

The committee urged that the lines, which cost 146 million dollars, be sold to the highest bidder. It added that all evidence pointed to the desirability of using them to transmit natural gas from the southwest to northern industrial areas.

The conclusions were embodied in a report to the house by its committee on surplus property disposal, which recently held two weeks of public hearings on the wartime pipelines extending from Texas to the Philadelphia-New York area.

Christmas is more of a spirit of giving, giving yourself to the needs of the hand, helping someone who is not quite as fortunate, working for something in this favored land. Gifts, well, of course, they're a part of the season, but a small part and part of the way; Christmas is something that's bigger and finer—weather's cool, thirty-seven today.

ed in London social circles as a preliminary to the engagement, is expected to become naturalized at the end of February.

Observers of the British social scene have said that his act was impelled in part by the need to minimize objections among sections of the British public to a match between their future queen and a man associated in their minds with the troubled situation in Greece.

The princess will celebrate her 21st birthday in April but News of the World pointed out that there was no connection between her age and the present lack of official news about the engagement.

The only court comment on the romance was a denial that the couple were presently engaged and it was regarded as significant that the wording of the brief statement did not preclude an announcement in the near future that they would wed.

The equipment in the plant is spanking new, it is modern, and guests from some of the class company suppliers present made the statement previously that the West Pittsburgh plant is one of the most modern in the United States.

Following the inspection, the guests were served a luncheon that would have done credit to a metropolitan plant and the guests enjoyed themselves.

Following the luncheon, President Nathan Perlestein took charge of the program, a short one by the way. In his remarks Mr. Perlestein singled out Joseph E. Brown, manager of the West Pittsburgh plant and Engineer Harry Shandless for their initiative and efficiency in getting the machinery and equipment installed and getting the plant ready to go into production this week.

Thanks Employees
Mr. Perlestein thanked the employees of the plant for their co-operation in getting the plant under way and said that he hoped soon to expand the personnel of the plant. ler, contralto, soloist and music director, of Central Presbyterian church, Robert E. Lytle, tenor soloist at the First Presbyterian church of Sharon and director of the Westinghouse male chorus of Sharon, and D. Marshall Jones, bass, of Youngstown, and music director of the Second U. P. church here. To their virtuosity and ease in singing in a range of rich tones the performance owed much of its effectiveness.

In the singing of Handel's incomparable reverent and magnificent choruses, the 125 voices blended in a powerful performance that did full justice to the oratorio.

Achieves New Laurels
To Mrs. Caldwell, the director, were added new laurels in her masterly handling of the chorus. The parts were well balanced, with superb blending of soprano, alto, tenor and bass voices, and a sympathetic understanding was apparent throughout the performance between the director and chorus. The phrasing was excellent, some passages being sung with tremendous energy and others with the finest pianissimo.

Mrs. Caldwell had the admirable collaboration of Edwin Lewis at the organ and Mrs. Richard K. Allen at the piano and these two musicians made of the accompaniment a masterly expression of cohesion. Tower chimes as the audience assembled were played by Miss Betty Robinson.

Invocation was offered by the Rev. Burr R. McKnight, D.D., announcement were made by the Rev. A. E. Simon and the Rev. H. H. Grove gave the benediction. The presentation was sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Evergreen trees and poinsettias decorated the front of the auditorium.

Given Recognition
After the performance the audience lingered as Mrs. Strehler, president of the Music club, presented poinsettia plants to Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Allen, Miss Ruth Weir, Mrs. C. W. Cameron, and Mr. Lewis as an expression of appreciation for their tireless efforts on behalf of this annual musical festival for the community.

To Mrs. James W. Moorehead, publicity chairman, goes much of the credit for the success of the performance. Mrs. C. W. Cameron is manager of the chorus; Miss Ruth Weir, accompanist; Miss Jane Kyle, librarian; Miss Maude Mitchell, treasurer. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. W. E. Horner, Mrs. G. G. Horchler, and Tom Wiland. Herbert S. Kirk was radio publicity chairman.

ATTACK ON RENT CEILINGS LIKELY TO DEVELOP NOW

"within the framework" of the government's announced policy of relaxing controls.

The President's statement on the new program emphasized "the great need to stimulate rental housing for veterans." He explained the techniques outlined "are those which will work today." He added, "I am convinced that this 1947 program will produce results."

Features Of Program

Here are the important features of the new program:

1. Non-veterans may now build homes for their own occupancy, but veterans must be given preference on all new housing for sale or rent. All home building will be on a government permit system.
2. The $10,000 ceiling on new homes sales and $80 on new rentals is gone. There is now no ceiling on sales; rent ceilings will be set on an individual basis or an $80 average for multi-unit projects.
3. Restrictions on non-residential construction will be retained for some months, but progressively relaxed. It has been predicted that the present thirty-five million dollar weekly ceiling on materials used in non-housing construction will hit the fifty million dollar mark before the week is out.
4. Government funds for insured mortgage financing will be increased by one billion dollars. This is in keeping with the President's determination to encourage rental construction.
5. Priorities on building materials are gone, but allocations of short supply raw materials are temporarily continued.
6. There will be a "critical" review of the premium payment plan by which the government sought to encourage production of bottleneck building materials.
7. Guaranteed markets for factory-built homes and new materials will be continued, as will report controls over critical building supplies.

products which were shoved into the market," he said. "We have not noticed any great increase in prices and although there may be a sudden spurt, there is bound to be a leveling off" when production steps up.

"Siding, flooring and other hard-to-get materials may jump somewhat in price, but in the long run the home-builder will be getting superior items. There will still be 'wild-cat' firms selling lumber at high prices, but the reputable companies will hold the line I think."

J. Clyde Gillilan, contractor, builder and realtor, said that abolition of the control was something that had to occur.

"It should be a healthy thing for the country in general," he stated, "and will bring about a sane solution to the matter. One important point is the fact that there should now be created a great many more rental properties. With non-veterans as well as veterans now able to build, more and more vacancies will exist. After all, every veteran does not want to build—many desire to rent homes. The veteran who wants to build a new home will get better materials and as to costs, he will not be paying black market prices for materials."

"By spring I believe the situation should be greatly cleared and a price leveling in evidence. There are indications of great stores of materials on the West Coast, most of it being held up by inadequate shipping facilities. When production gets into swing, prices should stabilize themselves."

Out of their WISDOM

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE and Constitution were written by men of wisdom and experience. Thomas Jefferson left a library of 10,000 volumes, and read the books of great thinkers in six or seven languages. James Madison was a student of theology, and was one of the wisest men of the Colonies. Benjamin Franklin possessed a great store of common sense, experience and culled wisdom of the ages, through reading. He is credited with starting America's first circulating library.

Wisdom of the ages lights the way for modern science and medical research. Many years of study, experience and organized effort made possible America's fine Medical Schools, high standards of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy. Keep them free of bureaucratic hands so they may continue to work toward SOUND extension of health services.

Five Teamsters Suffer Wounds In 'Beer War' Battle

Shooting Fray Occurs At Reorganization Meeting Of AFL Union In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Five AFL teamster members today were being treated for bullet wounds suffered in a shooting fray in Pittsburgh Sunday at a reorganization meeting of their strife-ridden local.

Police said Nestor Miskow, 29, wounded three men when he opened fire on John J. Sweeney, 23, with whom he had been arguing over the union split.

Patrolman Al Quail, a former boxer, subdued Miskow but two other by-standing teamster members were wounded during the struggle, police said.

None of the men were seriously wounded, according to police. They were listed as: Miskow, shot by his own gun during the fight; Sweeney; Mike Sacco, 30; Charles Persinger, 30, and William McGregor, 48, all of Pittsburgh.

Police said more than 200 officers were on a riot call dispatched to the union's meeting place in Pittsburgh's Oakland district. But Quail had the situation in hand when the reserve police arrived.

Miskow was held by police on charges of violation of the firearms act and felonious shooting with intent to kill.

The wounded were held as material witnesses, police said.

Brooklyn was incorporated with New York City in 1898.

WORK AND PLAY

Sometimes it is pretty hard to distinguish between work and play. To a fisherman, catching fish may be hard labor while for a banker it may be play.

A ball game may be hard work for a professional ball player but recreation for a boy.

Sometimes a change of occupation is recreation.

Some people work harder at play than at their regular job. Some people enjoy the time spent at their work more than their leisure time.

Perhaps play and recreation are more mental than physical.

Some people seem to worry as much in their sleep as when they are awake.

Recreation or play should relax and restore both mind and body. Each person must figure it out for himself.

If there is nothing a person would rather do than what he is doing he is playing.

The Creek Indians were so named from the numerous creeks running through their land.

New Castle Needs 288,000 New Milk Bottles Yearly

Very few housewives in the city size it, but on the average, 16 carloads, or 288,000 milk bottles are received in the City of New Castle each year, to provide milk for the new consumers and to replace those that have become broken or carelessly misplaced, according to Harry Crisci, 1103 North Croton avenue, of the New Castle Milk Bottle Exchange.

In pre-war days when milk bottles were in abundance, the average bottle made about four or five round trips between the dairy and your home and a new one took its place if it failed to turn up again, he said. Today, Mr. Crisci told a reporter, that same bottle has to make at least 25 round trips if you are to receive your milk on the porch step every morning.

The reason for this, is not because they are making the bottles out of better material, but due to the fact the average dealer is receiving ten percent less bottles today from the manufacturers than he received before the war. Then the manufacturers say that they are unable to get soda ash which is necessary in the manufacture of the bottles. Also the average order used to be filled in 30 days, whereas it now takes nine to 12 months.

The largest dairy in the city reported that his turnover due to missing bottles each year is $2,000 to replace them, while the smallest dairy had to replace 2600 bottles during one year.

Many housewives, Mr. Crisci states, have the mistaken idea, that if they put out a bottle of another dairyman, other than their own, it won't be picked up. The milk man is glad to get the bottle even, though it does not bear his inscription, as it will eventually get into the bottle exchange and get back to its rightful owner.

Two Children Burn To Death In Home

Run To Clothespress To Escape Flames From Overheated Stove In Bedroom

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 16.—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for two children who burned to death late Saturday night after being trapped in a clothespress in their home. The victims were Allen Harris, Jr., 5 and Walter, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Harris.

Three other children were in the living room of the Harris home when flames broke out in an upstairs bedroom. The fire was caused by an overheated coal stove near the children's bed, firemen said. The two children ran into the clothespress away from the flames. The parents tried desperately to reach the children but were driven back by flames and smoke. Mrs. Harris fell on the stairs and was taken to a hospital with an ankle injury.

Wearing smoke masks, firemen recovered the bodies seven minutes after the alarm was sent in.

Buying Sledge In Pennsylvania

Christmas Season Developing Biggest Buying Spurge In State's History

HARRISBURG, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's Christmas season today was crystallizing into the biggest buying spurge in history.

The end of the general merchandise shortage, which kept customers marking time for five years, has brought a rush of business the like of which has never been experienced before by merchants.

An abundance of most items has been reported and stock rooms were said to be bulging. Better workmanship and finer materials helped to excite the buying fever of purchasers already pent up to the bursting point from wartime and immediate postwar shortages.

Pure silks were back on the market and more nylon fabrics were available. Wool replaced rayon substitutes and metals replaced some woods.

Pocketbooks were wide open for good clothing and many luxuries, but the public reportedly was cautious about paying high prices for second rate goods or substitutes introduced during the war.

A break was noted in high price levels maintained since the shopping spree started well before Thanksgiving. Larger cuts in price tags of well stocked articles were due during the peak of buying this week and immediately following the holidays.

TO DIVORCE RATOFF

'Top Drawer' File Missing In Berlin

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—A Berlin dispatch to the London Daily Express reported today that a "top drawer" file, had disappeared from the Berlin headquarters of the British Control Commission.

The dispatch added that criminal investigators believed it was stolen by a German employee "planted" in the headquarters by a "foreign power".

The newspaper said six days of investigation have failed to produce any clues but guards have been strengthened to prevent a recurrence of the theft.

A Detroit was jailed for 90 days after eating his family's 20-pound turkey, refusing to share any of it. That ought to be long enough to cure any stomach-ache.

Hint Firebug May Have Caused Fire In Atlanta Hotel

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(INS)—A hint that a firebug may have been responsible for the Wineoff Hotel disaster in Atlanta, Ga., came from John J. McCarthy, fire prevention consultant to the New York State Hotel Association.

McCarthy, a member of the New York City Fire Department for 32 years, made a first hand inspection of the fire-scarred hotel where 121 persons lost their lives last week. He declared:

"It is difficult to evaluate the reason for the terrific spread and speed of the fire. But either one of two possibilities are tenable—incendiarism or the fire was burning for a long period before discovery."

He said that in all the years he has been a fireman, he never before "has seen such devastating effects of fire from such a small point of origin."

McCarthy pointed out that the hotel had only one exit, and that the Wineoff's open stairway ended at the top floor level with no break in the ceiling. Thus, he said, smoke, deadly gas and flame were unable to escape but mushroomed through corridors.

The fire inspector also said that precious minutes were lost by the hotel help in trying to determine the origin of smoke before they sounded the fire alarm.

Byrnes Seeking To Settle Feud Over Argentine

anything, it has become worse. Observers are convinced that it can be settled only by drastic action.

Leading figures in the fight are Spruille Braden, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and ambassador to Buenos Aires, George Messersmith.

EIGHT HUNDRED HEAR PRESIDENT SAMMIS AT POWER CO. DINNER

President Walter H. Sammis expressed pleasure to be at the Christmas party and remarked that "the Christmas season coincides with the closing of the old year. It is a time when we look into the past and try and peer into the future. There are many here for whom this is the first Christmas party at home in many years. For the most part our men in armed service did not get home until early this year. Of 62 employees who went into service, 42 have returned to our employ, and we are happy to have in our organization 59 new employees who were in armed service during the recent war."

"Today, over a year after the cessation of hostilities, our country is still going through the throes of readjustment. People ponder many questions. Will we have lasting peace or another war? Will we have more regulation by government or will the right of the individual again predominate? Will we continue to have a high standard of living or will the standard decline? He said that "electricity has played a large part in the present high standard of living, which we, in America, are privileged to enjoy. This should be obvious to all. I'm sure it has been deeply impressed upon our men and women who saw service in the armed forces overseas."

Mr. Sammis referred to "our terrific electrical progress." He said it has been rapid and extensive. Mr. Sammis explained that "the consumption in Pennsylvania Power company territory is 2,303 kilowatt hours, due to the industrial use here. In other respects, the Pennsylvania power company compares very favorably with the country as a whole. Our annual kilowatt hour per residential customer is 1,599 kilowatt hours compared with 1,300 kilowatt hours for the country; 84 per cent of the farmers in our territory have electric service against 58.8 per cent for the country as a whole. The average rate for residential service is 3.1 compared with 3.3 for the country as a whole."

Some New Appliances Scarce

He remarked that, while natural gas is available for cooking to a great majority of Pennsylvania Power company customers, 14 per cent cook with electricity, compared to 12 per cent for the nation, after which he proudly stated "we in Pennsylvania Power can feel that our company can take its place among the leaders of the industry in the service it renders to its customers."

"Every day we hear or see (although they may not be available) new electrical devices for the home, industry and farm. Appliances for the home, similar to those manufactured before the war, were not available last Christmas and even this Christmas the supply is far below the demand."

The slides shown on the screen were of familiar types of table and floor lamps, but each is equipped with a new circular fluorescent lamp, in addition to the conventional incandescent lamp inside the bowl.

On the next slide was displayed the type of illumination which will be available for residences in the near future. A type of this kind is installed in a home here. The lighting in the room comes from the new type, slim-line fluorescent tubes.

A slide then showed Precipitron units for cleaning air in a home of dirt and tobacco smoke. The sketch showed how it works. Another slide displayed another new appliance, an automatic clothes drier to team up with the automatic washer.

Hot Pump Installed Here

He next told of the Pennsylvania Power company, a few other utility companies and electrical equipment companies, experimenting with the possibility of heating homes with electricity, not by direct radiation, as is obtained from such a conventional heating unit as the bathroom electrical heater, but by what is known as the reversed refrigeration cycle or heat pump. Generally speaking, it is the reverse of summer cooling. It might also be stated that already one has been installed in a New Castle home as a system of heating by electricity.

After explaining, with the aid of a slide, how the heat is dispelled from a refrigerator in the kitchen he said that, "in the case of the heat pump, you draw water from a well in your backyard, circulate it through a heat pump, or reversed refrigeration mechanism in the basement, and discharge the water into a second well, or into the sewer system."

"The water in the well, even in zero weather, will be around 55 degrees, and when it is circulated through the heat pump its temperature is reduced to 15 degrees, to prevent freezing and this 15 degrees of heat is discharged into the house heating system. With a constant flow of water at the rate of, say, 10 gallons a minute, there is a constant discharge of heat into the home at the degree desired."

"By this means from 3 to 4 times as much heat may be obtained with a kilowatt hour of electricity as would be obtained with the conventional direct form of heating. If this process proves successful and economical, and I believe engineers will be able to work out the 'kinks', it is not fantastic to think in terms of consumption of 10,000 kilowatts hours of electricity for an average home."

Mr. Sammis next dwelt upon what appropriately may be termed "electrifying the farm," an account of which some time ago was carried in The New Castle News. With the aid of slides he told of electricity harnessed to home-made freezers, fans which electrically drive air through barns to cure hay, operate hay hoists, milk coolers, milkers in dairies, and many other uses.

Relative to commercial customers, such as stores, offices, hotels and small businesses, Mr. Sammis said he foresees in the immediate future, a greater appreciation of the possibilities and advantages of fluorescent lighting, which makes possible the use of higher intensities of light to display merchandise attractively.

Shenango Uses Infra-Red

Another important commercial application is popular because of its cooling and cleansing advantage. He said in industry, electricity will continue to revolutionize processes. Rubber concerns are experimenting with the curing of rubber by dielectric heating, which is high frequency heating, and decreases the time required for curing. By the use of still higher frequencies waves, non-metals can be heated on the inside as quickly as on the surface.

Dielectric drying, too, has a great possibilities Mr. Sammis stated. One tobacco company already is conducting an experimental, by drying leaves in a shed without spreading the leaves over acres of ground, as formerly. The method may also be used to kill bacteria and weevils in cereals prior to packaging. He said the time may come when lumber may be dried quick, eliminating the slow, space requiring kiln or loft drier.

He said the Shenango Pottery here is using infra-red heating to dry china and is now installing an additional infra-red oven with an electric heater of 1,000 kilowatts to increase further the speed of drying their wares. Induction heating is still another development that has possibilities. For instance, strip steel can be annealed as it comes down the production line.

Relative to atomic energy, Mr. Sammis said experiments in generation of electric power are being planned at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Several problems must first be solved. (1) protect workers from radiation of particles from the chain of reaction by setting up barriers of iron or other material between workers and the plant. He said it had been estimated that such shielding would result in a weight of 50 tons for a power plant as small as 100 kilowatts. (2) how to protect people from the hazard of radio active materials that might be carried out of the plant.

Pushing West Pittsburg Unit

Scientists recently predicted in the press that an atomic power plant of 75,000 kilowatts could be built for $25,000,000, which is 2 1/2 to 3 times the cost of a coal burning power plant of the same size today. Its operation cost was figured to equal a coal burning plant only if coal were $10 a ton, thus it does not appear that the present methods of electric power production face competition from atomic energy in the reasonable future, which is one reason why the Pennsylvania Power company is pushing completion of the new 44,000 kilowatt unit at the West Pittsburg plant and which is scheduled for operation next May. In addition plans have been announced by the Ohio Edison company for a 44,000 kilowatt addition to the plant in Akron and a 33,000 kilowatt addition to the Mad River plant at Springfield, O.

Governor Martin Accorded Honor

Presented With Pennsylvania Society Of New York's Medal Saturday Night

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(INS)—

No danger to the American system of government was seen today by U. S. Sen. Elect Edward Martin as long as the pulpit press and radio militantly battled to safeguard the nation's freedoms.

"It is they who guard the last best hope of earth. Aided by men and men of good will," he added, "they can help bring happiness to America and a long peace to the world."

Martin, who will end four years as Pennsylvania's governor January 21, was presented with the Pennsylvania Society of New York's medal Saturday night for illustrious achievement. The award was presented by Governor-Elect James H. Duff.

Through the pulpit, the press and the radio," Martin said, "We have potent forces working together to bring truth to the world."

"It is a clear-cut effort that should remain forever on the alert, safeguarding those freedoms which are the hope of the world," he declared. "If we do our duty these forces will stand invincible in the watch towers of patriotism, dedicated to the eternal verities of truth, obligation and freedom."

"It is they who guard the last best hope of earth. Aided by men and men of good will," he added, "they can help bring happiness to America and a long peace to the world."

Martin scouted the systems of government elsewhere in the world and said in each the state was paramount to the individual while in America the rights of its citizens were sovereign.

SEES ELEPHANT
COOS BAY, Ore.—(INS)—When a woman telephoned police that an elephant, trunk and all, was staring in her window at 4 a. m., a skeptical patrolman answered the call. But sure enough, the pachyderm was standing eating from garbage cans along the alley. He was hustled back to the circus from which he had escaped.

FOUND IN NEIGHBOR'S HOME
Peggy, small daughter of E. J. Bowers, 411 Hutchman street, was reported missing Sunday afternoon, according to a report made to police headquarters. The child was found in a nearby neighbor's home.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Greer Garson's little secret is out today. The red-headed queen of drama enjoys playing the harmonica.

Your reporter stumbled into this unique fact when he visited Greer on the set of "a step forward," an M-G-M short about the fight against infantile paralysis.

Greer was telling about a youngster in the cast who has taken a great fancy to her, which pleased her no end.

"He calls me 'Dear Garson,'" she said. "I get a big kick out of it. He spends a lot of time in my dressing room playing my harmonica."

"Your what?" your reporter ejaculated.

"My harmonica," said Greer with a perfectly straight face. "It has only four notes, but it's a harmonica."

It was the most delightful surprise your reporter had since he learned Ingrid Bergman likes to chew gum—also in secret.

In all his screen career, Clark Gable has never worked harder than he has in preparation for "The Hucksters," which goes before the cameras January 2.

He's testing with every candidate for every role, something never done by a major star before. Now that Deborah Kerr has been definitely cast for the role of Kay, only the role of Jean, the night club singer, remains to be filled. There are six candidates, including Pat Marshall, who can out-Russell Kane Russell.

Your reporter ran into her running alone instead of with Gable, so he kiddingly asked why he hadn't been invited to join them when Pat and Clark were lurching together the other day.

"Oh," said Pat. "Clark would have invited you except he didn't have enough money with him. He was so broke I had to sign the check."

"You did?" said your reporter.

"Yes," said Pat, "but I signed his name."

Louis B. Mayer, who's enjoyed about every honor that can come to a man, got his biggest kick the other day.

It was a note from Marjorie Kinman Rawlings, who wrote the book "The Yearling," from which L. B. made the movie he thinks will win the next Academy award.

She wrote:

"The film of 'The Yearling' seems to me as beautiful a job as I have ever seen technically and emotionally. I could wish for all authors as sensitive and satisfying a translation of their word to the screen."

That's almost a miracle. Usually what writers have to say about the screen adaptation of their story can't be put in print.

Mention Wampum Mine As Underground Site In Atomic Warfare

By FRANCES MUSIC

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16—(INS)—Official government data showed today that mines believed suitable as underground sites in event of atomic warfare have a total area of more than 400 million square feet. This finding was disclosed in an address by Capt. A. M. Granum, student at the industrial college of the armed forces, before a meeting of the Army Quartermaster Association in Washington.

Granum declared on the basis of an exhaustive study and official data that underground sites as defenses against atomic and germ warfare are "effective, feasible and not necessarily expensive."

Most Suitable

Data furnished by the bureau of mines and the office of the chief engineers said that mines most suitable for use as storage or for manufacturing facilities are the gypsum, limestone, sandstone, marble, salt and lead-zinc types.

The statement said: "Except for the salt and lead-zinc mines, the entrances are of the drift type permitting use of trucks and railway cars. The number of portals varies from one to 16. Mines of this type have a total area of over 400,000,000 square feet."

It was pointed out that in the United States there are about 7,000 bituminous mines in 31 states and 6,000 other types in 38 states, many of which are unsuitable as underground sites for various reasons, including wetness.

Granum said that despite the number and wide distribution of mines it is likely that many military and civilian requirements for protection in underground sites cannot be met from existing mines alone.

Wampum Mine Mentioned

Mines include: A limestone mine at Wampum, Pa., with chambers 160 feet high, large enough to accommodate a 15-story building; a potassium salt mine near Carlsbad, N. M., 900 feet underground; and a limestone mine at Mannheim, W. Va., with chambers 26 feet high, 51 feet wide and 3,400 feet long.

The naval officer suggested that every new installation at the mili-

and in many cases isolated from transportation.

Granum added: "However, the observation in other countries, and the experience with our own limited applications, show that it is entirely feasible to store and manufacture many of our critical items and products underground where they have the best possible protection from surprise attack and from all the hazards of the atomic age."

Surveys of Germany and France have shown the existence of about 200 underground sites in those countries.

Granum said that although installations underground, originally cost 15 per cent more than those on the earth's surface the operating and maintenance costs should result in an overall saving in 30 years of ten per cent.

Granum said that it should not be assumed there are no drawbacks to underground sites. He listed these as problems of waste disposal, water supply, emergency power and air conditioning.

KIDNAP, RAPE CHARGES FILED AGAINST YOUTHS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16—(INS)

Two youths were being held today on charges of kidnaping two girls in an automobile and raping one of them in a deserted Torresdale area. The suspects are Robert A. Suvov, 25, and William Zumbino, 29. They were accused by Emma Rossi, 21, and Marie Lewandowski, 20, whom they had offered to drive home.

Police said the men were arrested in the car after Miss Rossi escaped from the automobile and directed a scout car in a search for it. Miss Lewandowski was with the men, detectives asserted, in a hysterical condition.

RECORD GROUP OF MISSIONARIES SAILS FOR ORIENT
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16—(INS)—Seven hundred Protestant missionaries—the largest group to leave the United States in a single ship—were en route to duty in the Orient today.

Their ship, the Marine Lynx, left San Francisco yesterday.

The ship is scheduled to dock at Shanghai Jan. 2 and will then proceed to Hong Kong and Manila.

British Spokesman Replies To Soviet War Mistake Charge

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(INS)—A spokesman for the British foreign office made a stinging rejoinder to charges by the Soviet newspaper Red Fleet that British navy tactical mistakes helped cause chaos in a disastrous convoy run to Russia during the war.

Red Fleet asserted that 24 ships were lost in the incident in June of 1942.

The spokesman declared: "The imputations on the behavior of United States and British personnel in these operations has not caused any surprise in view of the attitude of the Russian press throughout and since the war."

"It is noticeable that the Russian press consistently played down the very great efforts and sacrifices by the Allies in giving aid to Russia."

"They withheld this news from the Russian people consistently in marked contrast to the proper recognition the British press gave to Russian efforts."

Husband Held For Wife's Death

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 16.—(INS)—John Jaynes, 60, of South Connelville, today was held by Fayette county police in the fatal shooting of his wife, Mona, 27, following an argument over ashes spilled by the woman's small daughter.

Police said Mrs. Jaynes died in the South Connelville hospital six hours after the shooting.

In a deathbed statement, Mrs. Jaynes told County Detective Lawrence A. Hager that her husband struck her with a poker at the height of the argument over ashes spilled by her daughter Pearl.

Mrs. Jaynes said she was preparing dinner at the time and had a knife in her hand. She told the detective she followed her husband upstairs and was shot as she reached the head of the stairs.

District Attorney Fred Brothers said Jaynes would be formally charged, with murder.

Oversize Paunch Thief's Downfall

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Doctors have always warned against bulging waists. A 44-year-old man, Lorin W. Stumbaugh, 44, today heartily agreed with the learned medical men.

He wasn't feeling so good, and he was in jail too, all because of his expanding waistline.

And, it wasn't anything he ate, either.

It seems that Stumbaugh took a liking to a $2,500 17th-century prayer rug on the wall of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

When no one was in sight, he pulled the heavy tapestry from its display case, and wound it around his waistline.

His oversize paunch drew the attention of one of the museum guards who search him and found the rug.

Smilie said evidence on hand "is the clincher," but that he was awaiting the results of FBI tests of additional clues. The district attorney declared that all findings "pointed in one direction."

The body of the attractive brunette was found lying on the bed in her Pottstown apartment on Dec. 9. A piece of blue silk cloth was knotted tightly around her neck. She was unclad except for bobby socks and a camel hair coat tossed over her shoulders.

CHILDREN'S MANNERS

"At what age should girls and boys be taught to rise for elders and when is it necessary for them to rise? I have a boy of 10 and a girl of eight to whom I wish to give social training. Please help me."

Answer: Your children are lucky in having a mother who desires to do right by them. It is never too early or too late to begin training a child in good manners. As soon as they go to school, boys should be taught to remove their hats upon entering friends' houses and raise them when those of the opposite sex or elders are greeted on the street.

Boys and girls of school age should be taught to stand when accepting introductions; to extend their right hands for a cordial handshake; to rise when elders come into the room.

This does not mean, of course, that children at play or in the midst of study must rise every time their mother enters the room any more than their father, relaxing by the fireside would be required to rise every time his wife went in and out. But both father and children should rise whenever mother or any other older woman comes into the room for the first time. But, as intimated, it is unnecessary for them to thus pop up and down all evening.

Children should be likewise taught to pull out mother's chair or that of any woman guests and seat her at the table. The earlier this training begins, the more natural and unstrained it will become. Untrained children who develop good social contacts must learn the hard way or become pariahs.

Question: When and by whom is the bride's face veil lifted?

Answer: At the completion of the ceremony, just before the recessional, after the maid-of-honor returns the bride's bouquet she lifts the bride's face veil if she has worn one.

Woodsman's Skeleton Found By Hunters

Aged Man From Clarion County Identified By Daughter After Three Years

CLARION, Dec. 16.—Skeleton of John McCaskey, 77-year-old resident of Fisher, Clarion county, who disappeared July 13, 1943, was found Saturday by two Freeport deer hunters.

Positive identification of clothing was made by Mr. McCaskey's daughter, Mrs. Howard Stone, of Fisher. It was established from his position that the aged man, who had been in ill health, probably lay down to rest and died. The remains were found about one and one-half miles from his home.

Following the disappearance of Mr. McCaskey, who had been a woodsman and lumberman, 500 persons had combed the woods, some passing only 15 feet from where the body was found.

The first known silver decorations used in France were the trappings for horses and ox yokes.

S-Sgt. H. R. Baldwin Gets Army Citation

S. Sgt. Heber R. Baldwin, formerly of the U. S. army medical department, has been awarded the army commendation ribbon and citation for his work with the army's medical nutrition laboratory, a division under the surgeon general's office. He is the son of Mrs. Nina C. Baldwin of East Washington street.

The award was presented for Sgt. Baldwin's part in setting up a chemical laboratory and conducting analysis during the testing of a new army field ration, known as ration E.

The citation reads in part: "By your superior ability, energy and perseverance as member of bi-chemistry section, you have contributed in an important degree to the success of the field ration test of ration E at Camp Carson, Colo., during the month of September, 1946, and to the welfare of troops who will in the future subsist on operational rations."

Sgt. Baldwin, a graduate of New Castle high school and Westminster college, was recently released from service and has accepted a Dow Chemical company fellowship for research in human nutrition at the University of Iowa.

C.I.O. Statement On Wage Raises Held Inaccurate

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Ray Booth, secretary-manager of the Tri-State Industrial association, on Saturday termed a "romantic notion" the contention of the CIO that industry can raise wages 25 per cent without raising prices.

The CIO apparently wishes to believe that all business makes "stupid profits," Booth said in answer to statements made earlier this week in Washington by Robert R. Nathan, former New Deal economist.

The statement came prior to meetings next week of officers of three large CIO unions—United Steelworkers, United Automobile Workers and United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers—at which new wage demands will be drafted for presentation to industry next month.

LEWIS HELPS DIESEL SALES

John L. Lewis was pictured as the country's No. 1 Diesel locomotive salesman by Trains, railroad trade magazine. Diesels burn oil not coal. The December issue of Trains declared in part:

"The Lewis insistence upon constantly higher wages for coal miners, coupled with opposition to mine mechanization, has raised the price of locomotive coal 51.1 per cent in five years while Diesel oil has gone up only 24 per cent."

"Right now only 67 steam locomotives are on order for United States railroads as against 500 Diesels."

Missing Swedish Heirlooms Mystery Reported Solved

DENVER, Dec. 16.—(INSS)—The case of the missing Swedish heirlooms was solved Saturday.

The heirlooms and jewels belonged to Miss Esther Lindso, of Lincoln, Neb., and disappeared aboard a transcontinental train.

Railroad officials discovered the missing valuable in the berth of two soldiers, Pfc Calvin S. Reed, 22, of Reeves, Utah, and Pfc Hershel A. Morban, 28, of Venice, Cal.

The soldiers were turned over to Denver police and Detective Sgt. Leslie Sawyer quoted them as admitting they took the jewel case but thought it was a portable radio. Sawyer said the soldiers became frightened when they discovered their error, and hid the jewel case in the berth.

The soldiers were held for further investigation. Miss Lindso was en route to her home after visiting relatives in Sweden, and the contents of the jewel box included a rare coin which had been presented to a member of her family by King Gustave.

Quarter Million Cases Are Added To State Relief

Report Is Made Of Increase In Rolls
Since V-J Day Termination Of War

HARRISBURG, Dec. 16.—More than a quarter of a million cases have been added to the state's relief rolls since V-J Day. The State Department of Public Assistance reported that the relief total rose by 266,300 cases between the end of the war and last Sept. 30.

The rise was attributed to strikes, reconversion problems and more stringent employment requirements which have thrown many of the older and less efficient workers out of jobs.

Although the increase "may seem sizeable," the department pointed out that for every 100 cases which were dropped during the relief rolls during the war only 16 have returned.

Despite the rise in relief rolls, however, Acting Public Assistance Secretary Robert P. Wray said employment in Pennsylvania rose to 3,757,000 in September. This was about 100,000 above the number of persons working in the last month of the war.

Mr. Wray pointed out that more than a million war veterans have entered the labor market in Pennsylvania.

As a result, he explained, many employees have raised their job requirements in regard to age, physical fitness and experience.

Billion And Half Cost Of Occupation Forces For Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The army estimates the occupation of defeated countries will cost $1,503,784,000 in the fiscal year 1947.

This total includes $617,275,000 for Germany, $44,000,000 for Austria, $613,309,000 for Japan and $228,201,000 for Korea.

The estimated cost of German occupation included $260,500,000 for army, $208,500,000 for maintenance of troops and $148,275,000 for government and relief.

The war department has announced it will have to ask a deficiency appropriation of $350,000,000 to pay its occupation bills this fiscal year.

SUGAR-SHY COOKIES USE NUTS
AND DRIED FRUITS

Christmas is the one time of the year when we can let our imagination run riot and use rich and colorful ingredients in holiday baking.

Though ingredients for the traditional holiday recipes are either scarce or expensive this year, holiday cakes and cookie can taste as good and look as gay and colorful as ever, reminds Mrs. Hollobaugh.

It will take planning and ingenuity, but it can be done.

Nuts are plentiful and dates, raisins, and figs are back on the market. Candied fruits and fruit peels are available as well as fresh and frozen coconut. Honey or molasses may be used as the sweetening agent in many cake and cookie recipes.

Jelly tops are bright bits of jelly or preserves for decoration and require only two tablespoons of your precious sugar. They are festive looking and just right for the holiday party. Here is the recipe:

Jelly Tops
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons of sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon orange juice
1 cup finely ground pecans
1-1/4 cups sifted cake flour
Cream the butter and blend in the sugar. Add the grated rinds and orange juice. Stir the ground pecans and flour into this mixture and mix well. If a bit more flour is needed to make a dough that will handle easily, it may be sifted in by the teaspoonful. Shape the dough into small marble shaped balls and place on a greased cookie sheet. With the tip of one finger, make a depression in each ball, and place in the depression a bit of red jam jelly, or drained strawberry or cherry preserves. Bake in a modern oven (375° F.) about twelve minutes. Small balls of the dough may be baked plain and rolled, while still warm, in powdered sugar.

KILLED BY AUTO

FINAL HUNTING DAY

DUNCANVILLE, Pa., Dec. 16.—(INS)—Seventy-six-year-old Silas D. Wilt, of Duncanville, who didn't miss a day of hunting during the current deer season, on Saturday was killed by an automobile as he joined companions for the season's final day of hunting.

Wilt was struck by an automobile driven by Harold Finkle, 28, of Patton, the coroner's office reported.

Jap Brutality
During War Is Blamed On Tojo

TOKYO, Dec. 16.—(INS)—The blame for Japan's insensate brutality against British and other Allied war prisoners was laid directly at the door today of Hideki Tojo—the "Pearl Harbor premier."

Australian Prosecutor A. J. Mansfield told the International War Crimes Tribunal that Tojo was responsible for what he called Japan's "policy" of mistreatment of war prisoners and civilian internees.

The prosecutor said that 25 per cent of Japanese-held British war prisoners were killed or died in captivity in contrast to a 5 per cent casualty rate among Britishers captured by the other axis nations—Germany and Italy.

Mansfield mentioned a dozen of the 27 defendants now on trial in Tokyo for war crimes but pinned the major guilt for excessive death rates on Tojo, accused of planning Japan's bid for control of the Orient.

Peun State's place-kicking expert, Ed Czekaj of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., performed this chore as a high school player but abandoned it until his return from the service. This was his last year of college football.

Auto strikes barrier

Auto, driver unknown, struck a barricade in Croton avenue, which had been left unlighted by a local contractor, according to a police report. The accident occurred Sunday night. Policemen set flares until an employee of the contractor placed warning lights.

Duquesne Quintet
Carded In Miami

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Duquesne university's basketball team has been selected to play in the first outdoor doubleheader in Miami's Orange Bowl January 15, it was announced today by Chick Davies.

The Duke's opponent has not been selected as yet, Davies said, but probably will be a team from Georgia. The game will be the first of four to be played in Miami by the Duquesne quintet this year.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—(INS)—Promotion drums began to beat today for a non-title bout between Charley Fusari of Irvington, N. Y., and Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia.

Protect Your Car
Against Rust . . .

The underbody of your car is where rust is most active. Seldom do you see the thousands rust is making on these metal parts that are so necessary to protect unless you "get out and get under." You can prevent further action of rust on these parts by having Hite Bros. give the underside of your car an application of 3-M Underbody Protective Coating. It pays to protect what you can't replace.
